

Best way to perfect miters

Fine-tuning a miter for a perfect fit is often a trial-and-error process

Forget strings and stakes

Tack together the construction lumber to outline the structure, square it up and use it as a giant template to do all your marking

Throw together a miter saw bench

Take a few minutes and cobble together a miter saw bench, with a little creativity, you can use just about any materials you have on hand

Buy a trim gun

No more hand-nailing, Use the trim gun to make holes in the walls

Mark, don't measure

Use your pencil to mark things and not tape to measure

Take a nip now and then use nippers to pull nails

All-purpose hammer

Carry a multi-purpose hammer

